

Program Director-Agriculture and Natural Resources
SDSU Extension
South Dakota State University

Program Director- Agriculture and Natural Resources, SDSU Extension, South Dakota State University. Ranked as the No. 2 best place to work in South Dakota by Forbes, South Dakota State University is the state's largest, most comprehensive university with more than 200 programs and an enrollment of approximately 12,000 students. We are looking for a creative and innovative professional who is skilled in providing leadership for the creation and implementation of a collective vision pertaining to the educational outreach we do with individuals, farmers, ranchers, agricultural industry professionals, commodity groups and state agency collaborators in the areas of crop production, livestock production, precision agriculture, water resource management, natural resource management, climate adaptation, agriculture engineering, agricultural economics, marketing and risk management. For a complete listing of the minimum and preferred qualifications, contact information for questions on position, and to apply, visit <https://YourFuture.sdbor.edu>, search for the position, and follow the electronic application process. Application deadline is January 29, 2021. The department actively seeks to increase social and intellectual diversity among its faculty and staff. Women, veterans, minorities, and people with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply. For questions on the electronic employment process, contact SDSU Human Resources at (605) 688-4128. SDSU is an AA/EO employer.